FAQ

Q: How often do my enrolled friends and family members receive NINJIO episodes?

A: NINJIO releases the latest episode to your enrolled friends and family members on the Thursday following the first Tuesday of the month.

Q: Once I sign friends and family members up to receive episodes, can they opt out of receiving the episodes on a case by case basis?

A: Unfortunately, not. Once a user is registered, they will receive the episode for which there is no system to opt-out in specific months. That said, they can be unsubscribed from Friends and Family Use Rights at any time.

Q: How old are the episodes that my friends and family are signed-up to receive?

A: Your friends and family are receiving the latest and greatest episodes. NINJIO believes that our content must stay relevant and it's important to have corporate users and family members connect on the latest content.

Q: Can I get reporting on who is watching the episodes?

A: Unfortunately, not. The corporate user of NINJIO who has signed-up friends and family use rights members can report on who is signed-up, but NINJIO does not track who is watching the videos in this program.

Q: How do I register or remove users after signing up initially?

A: Simply go to https://family.ninjio.com and input your email address and unique company code. Your registered users and available registrations can be managed here.*
